The daily bulletin of the Edmonton Summer Regional

Issue 3

DICK ANDERSON IS MISSING

All day, Tuesday, yours truly was promoting the CBF Regional we are hosting in my new home town of Lethbridge, February 23rd – March 1st. I had been advising that the flyers would be on the upcoming events table. Alas, I telleth a lie. While Jan Anderson was to travel south, Dick was supposed to bring flyers in for this event. However, Jan is suffering from gall stones and Dick has stayed home to look after her. We all wish Jan well for her speedy and full recovery.

In the meantime, we will do our best to have flyers out on the table shortly. The schedule is already on the ACBL and WASUMI sites. In due course, we will have a web site up, so there should be no shortage of information.

We are planning an event-filled week. We have group rates booked at 16 properties. We have tours for non-players every day of the tournament. We hope to have buffets every lunch and dinner and are planning to have a merchant discount program in full swing by the time the tourney runs.

I realize the February 23rd to March 1 is not always the best time to travel on the prairies, but we are a hardy bunch and will travel far to get our bridge fix. Besides, with luck, we may have a Chinook and it will be shirtsleeve weather. It was last February ☺.

HOSPITALITY

Thursday

COMPLIMENTARY BREAKFAST AT THE EBC... PLUS 199ers QUESTION AND ANSWER SESSION

From 8 am until noon on Thursday, a complimentary continental breakfast is being held at the Edmonton Bridge Centre at 11810 Kingsway, right across the parking lot from the Ramada. For 199ers attending this breakfast, we are featuring a guest speaker (Barry Pritchard) with a question-and-answer session at 11:00 am.

Friday

DANCE: LIVE BAND
Dance to the music of SLOWBURN, a well-known local band!

This event is being held in Courtyard A, on the other side of the main floor from the playing site. See you on the dance floor after the Friday evening session!

Complimentary hors d'oeuvres will be served and the bar will be open.

EVENTS ESPECIALLY FOR NEWER DUPLICATE PLAYERS

Thursday at 1:00 pm:
199ers Swiss Teams (one session).

Edmonton Bridge Centre manager Matthew Greenways will be a featured guest speaker at an information and teaching session for players with 50 or fewer masterpoints. Light refreshments will be served. Location and time: playing site room, 4:30 pm.

Thursday at 7:30 pm:
199ers Swiss Teams (one session).

Friday at 1:00 pm: 199ers Pairs (one session).

Friday at 7:30 pm: 199ers Pairs (one session).

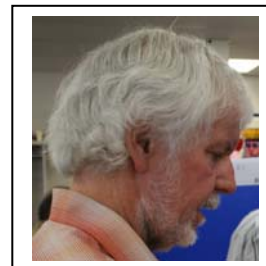

Saturday at 1:00 pm: 199ers Pairs (one session).

Saturday at 7:00 pm: 199ers Pairs (one session). Note earlier start time.

Sunday at 10:00 am: 199ers Swiss Teams (one session).

Sunday at TBA: 199ers Swiss Teams (one session).

CROSBY SPEAKS

This concludes my article on bidding 5-4-3-1 pattern hands. I hope you have found it informative and thought-provoking.

I suggest that strong 5-4-3-1 (18 to 20 HCPs) hands with 3-card support for partner's major response should be bid by a strong jump shift to 3♣ (which is artificial and is a relay to 3♦) after partner's major response. You hold ♠AJ10 ♥AKxxx ♦AKxx ♣x and you open 1♥. Partner bids 1♠; you rebid 3♣. Partner accepts the relay to 3♦, and you bid 3♠ (showing a rock hand with 3-card ♠ support). If you bid your strong 5-4-3-1 hands this way when you have 3-card support in partner's suit, and you rebid 2NT with strong hands when you have a singleton in partner's suit, this has the nice side effect of reserving a strong jump shift to 3♦ to show a 5-card diamond suit.

Do not let a 5-card major stop you from showing your strong 5-4-3-1 hand with a NT bid. Here's a hand I remember: I was dealt ♠AKxxx ♥Axx ♦K ♣AQJx and chose the "best lie" by opening 2NT. This got the auction off to a good start as I described my HCP range and semi-balanced distribution with one bid. (If the ♦K were something else, I would have chosen a different lie.) But in this example, now that partner knew my point range, it was easy for him to place the contract in 7♦, as partner held an 8-card ♦ suit to the A-Q, plus an outside ♥K. The 5-card major was only part of my hand. So, in a situation like this, describe your entire hand, and that's what the 2NT opener does. In any event, Puppet Stayman will find the 5-card major, so what's the worry?

SEEN AND HEARD

Bridge Players tongues cannot stop wagging and Monday Evening was no exception. While referring to Maurice de la Salle's partnering with Michael Yuen to win the Flight A in the Calcutta, one of the wisecrackers in the crowd was heard to comment: "What with Susan (Maurice's significant other) pairing up with an oriental to with the CWTC in Montreal, it just made sense for Maurice to pair up with another oriental in self defense." Maybe, in honour of the 2008 Olympics, Maurice and Susan know something that the rest of us need to learn.

HOSPITALITY

Saturday

GAME SHOW!

One hundred bridge players from Alberta (and points beyond) have kindly participated in a survey comprised of six questions relating to the game of bridge. Two competing teams of players will be tested on their intuition, common sense and luck when they guess which were the most popular answers to these questions. It's a fun game, and we need audience participation! Join us at the playing site room after the Saturday evening session.

Complimentary hors d'oeuvres will be served and the bar will be open.

NOTE THAT THE EVENING SESSION STARTS AT 7 (NOT 7:30)

Sunday

COMPLIMENTARY CONTINENTAL BREAKFAST

From 9 am until morning game time, a complimentary continental breakfast will be served in the playing site room. Come and enjoy!

Note the earlier start time for the Saturday evening sessions. Bridge starts at 7:00 p.m., not 7:30.

KNOCKOUTS BENEFITS

On Monday evening, the party went on towards dawn. First of all, Patty Metcalfe and Paula Nowlan hosted about 30 novice and intermediate players at a special reception where good camaraderie prevailed.

And then everybody made the short trek across the parking lot to the Edmotnon Bridge Centre where an amazing amount of pizza was served. Unfortunately for the Matchpoint players, knockouts ended half an hour early and the big eaters who played knockouts got the lion's share of the pizza. One more reason for playing knockouts... you get more to eat.

On Tuesday, Mavis Bergquist advised that she was smarter. She was sure she was going to be feeding sandwiches to her children for a month, but, of course, nobody has ever found the limit of bridge player appetites. Mavis did, however, hold a goodly number of sandwiches back for the matchpointers and when they arrived, they, too, came close to filling the void. Of course, every crumb went.

DEAR VINNIES

Let me tell you what REALLY annoys me. It is when I am declaring, and pausing to plan how to play the hand and one of the opponents is staring at me like I am the eighth wonder of the world or something. Why do people do that? You would think that they would take the time to ponder how they plan to defend, rather than fixing their gaze on me. Isn't there something in the rulebook that says you're not supposed to do this?

REALLY Annoyed

Dear REALLY

Before declaring a contract, ensure there is nothing hanging from your nose, or stuck in your teeth. This will decrease staring. If you are female, the less cleavage, the less staring, unless you really are the eighth wonder of the world.

If none of the above applies to you, then you have a valid complaint. It is not appropriate to stare at an opponent, either during the auction or in the play of the hand. Law 74C2 states that it is a violation of procedure to "look intently at any other player during the auction or play". That includes your partner.

If you feel an opponent is staring at you to try to intimidate, or gain an advantage, call for the director. Directors enjoy dealing with ogglers, and they get paid for it!

Yours sincerely,

The Vinnies

FAITH PRITCHARD

Faith Pritchard, daughter of the former Alberta Premier Harry Strom, was born in Medicine Hat. Faith moved to Edmonton in 1960 to obtain her B.Sc. in Medical Laboratory Science. After working in Alberta for 18 months, Faith worked at a mission hospital in Zimbabwe for a further 18 months and then returned home to instruct in MLS. Faith's hobbies outside of bridge include music (she has been the pipe organist at her church for many years), crafts, knitting, and travelling.

Faith's introduction to bridge was via a plastic tablecloth containing a few helpful rules of how to bid the game. "We used this tablecloth at our lunch hour breaks to play 2 or 3 hands. One of my friends who joined us at lunch worked with Jim Lopushinsky. It wasn't long before I met Jim and was introduced to the bridge club.

Lessons from Don Schopflocker increased my interest, and back in the mid-seventies the better players were eager to share their knowledge.”

Faith says:
“One thing I like about bridge is that no matter where you travel, there will always be a bridge club. Barry and I have played in many clubs in our travels and have met many wonderful friends. It goes without saying that my favourite partner is my husband, Barry. Although there have been many times of riding home together and arguing (or not talking at all) we always agree that bridge is a game we both love. We strive to not talk about hands at the table and to be supportive of each other. The proof of this occurred recently when I went for 2300 (I forgot our convention) and Barry graciously said it was his fault because he should have had a better hand.”

Faith approaches the game of bridge this way: “I want to do the best I can on each hand, but bridge is not life or death. It is still just a game.” Faith’s pet peeve is the alert procedure. “I once alerted my bid and waved the alert card but lost on the board because I did not have the alert card flat on the table. Yet this way of making an alert is never announced.”

Faith recalls that her first bridge tournament was in Edmonton at the MacDonald Hotel. “But if I can play bridge,” she says, “I’m happy anywhere. One of the most amusing things I remember about bridge was at a tournament where a lady laid her dummy down and said, ‘I’m not without assets - unlike my late husband’.” Faith remembers this story from her bridge experiences: “We played against Bob Hamman and Zia at a national tournament in Orlando, Florida. Barry Shenkin was kibbitzing. After the hand was over, he asked for my name and address, and told me that Zia said he liked my defence and wanted to write about me. All I had done was to smoothly duck my QJ when the 10 was played from dummy.

Hamman went up with the K and made 3 instead of 4. The story was written up in the tournament daily bulletin and the Granovetters also expanded on the play.”

Faith’s advice to beginning players is: “If possible, find a regular partner and don’t start off with too many conventions. Enjoy the game and be comfortable with the system you play.”

THE COUGAR CLAUSE

Yesterday when the antics of our own Kismet Fung were accurately reported, I waited all the day long for herself to appear. After all, no payback could be complete without seeing its effects. But, alas, no Kizmet all day long until I retired to my editor’s lair and opened my email. Therein was the following:

One would think our esteemed Editor would have some sympathy for cougars on the prowl. After all, a good man is indeed hard to find.

So Bob: now that your payback article has completely ruined my already catastrophic love life, and I may be left a spinster (in which case ALL MEN will suffer), I implore you to assist me in obtaining the perfect man, so only HE will be sentenced to perpetual doom.

WANTED: A good man

Qualities:

- 1. Boinkable (continually being mistaken for Brad Pitt would be a start)*
- 2. Ability to drive at night (thank you Ruth Reeves for this one)*
- 3. Plays bridge as well as Zia (but I’ll settle for Meckstroth)*
- 4. Sensitive but not sappy; Confident, but not egotistical; Good humour, but not a clown; Compassionate but not condescending; Intelligent, not nerdy; Charming, not hypocritical; Gracious, not disingenuous.*

Contact Kiz ... I know that the picture from yesterday’s bulletin may deter you from contacting me, but I believe it was doctored by the Editor of this bulletin, whose mind has been compromised by his move to Lethbridge. Hopefully a much better picture will follow later this week.

P.S. What do you call a bridge player without a girlfriend??

Answer: Homeless (thank you to Peter Jones for this one)

Can a Cougar cut cake... a 60's cake??!!

Need I remind the reader that a man meeting this list of qualifications simply does not exist. Even Susan Culham had to settle for less, albeit not a lot less.

Editor.
