

Susan Driggers
New ACBL Silver Life Master

Several years ago Susan and David, her husband, decided make this a goal. They attended quite a few tournaments in order to do this. Susan started playing bridge at age 20 but just played party/social bridge until around 2000 when she lived in Anchorage, AK. and began playing duplicate bridge. While there she also became a Director and Easybridge Certified Teacher and in so doing became very involved in bridge and the love of the game. Susan and David moved to Casper, WY, in 2012 and the duplicate bridge club there was floundering. Since that time she has taught several bridge classes bringing a revival to the club there. Susan is sure she will continue to play bridge throughout the rest of her life. She has made many wonderful friends this way.
