

Merrylin McCaskell

New ACBL Club Master

Merrylin's journey with the ACBL began in 2003 when she learned this marvellous game in Cranbrook BC. She had learned contract bridge the year before. A friend thought Merrylin had "card sense" and invited her to a private bridge afternoon game where she was introduced to something called a bidding box and a board, they called it duplicate bridge. She was invited back the next week and brought her social bridge partner with her. Lo and behold there were three tables set up. Merrylin came to find out these were lessons being offered from a book called EASY BRIDGE . Lorraine, her friend, and Merrylin never looked back. The club there grew in leaps and bounds. When Merrylin and her husband moved back to Saskatchewan in 2007 she gradually got back into the game but in Wolseley there was only contract bridge being played. She partnered up with another man who was interested in learning the convention playing of duplicate bridge. Eventually they ended up travelling the 1 hour drive into Regina for Monday night games and were somewhat successful. Merrylin hopes to continue to become more involved with the Regina Duplicate Bridge Club, the folks there are inviting and friendly. Duplicate bridge? There is nothing better.
